DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. Claims 1 and 7 are currently under examination, wherein no claim has been amended in applicant's amendment filed on February 27, 2009. The amendment to the instant specification filed by the applicant on February 27, 2009 has been entered.

Status of Previous Rejections

2. The previous rejections of claims 1 and 7 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as stated in the Office action dated January 5, 2009 are maintained as follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 01/18276 A1 in view of JP 11-286770 A as stated in the Office action dated January 5, 2009.

Response to Arguments

4. The applicant's arguments filed on February 27, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

First, the applicant argues that the examiner applies inherency to a combination of prior art. In response, the examiner notes as stated clearly in the Office action dated January 5, 2009, Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 01/18276 A1 in view of JP 11-286770 A. The rejection was not under 35 U.S.C. 102/103 as asserted by the applicant. The combination of the prior references as the ground of rejection is believed to be proper and is maintained. The yield strength of the worked Mo alloy material with the Mo nitride surface layer of Takada et al. ('368) in view of JP ('770 A) would be expected by one of skill in the art to be higher than that of the worked Mo alloy material without the Mo nitride surface layer because the Abstract of JP ('770 A) discloses that a Mo nitride surface layer formed by a nitriding treatment would increase the mechanical strength and hardness of a Mo-based alloy.

Second, the applicant argues that the instant invention shows unexpected results compared with Takada et al. ('368) in terms of yield and maximum strengths. In response, the examiner notes that there is no yield strength and/or maximum strength values recited in the instant claims 1 and 7; and that the applicant has not compared the unexpected results from the instant invention with those from the prior art.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
